CUTS URGED IN ATOMIC ENERGY AND VA FUNDS

Criticizes Federal Commission; Scores Veterans' "Hobby" Training.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 8—Cash money cuts of nearly nearly nine per cent for the atomic energy commission and seven per cent for the veterans administration were suggested today by the house appropriations committee.

At the same time the committee called for a halt to "hobby" training under the GI bill of rights.

It also said atomic energy commission officials should show less reluctance to consider the "practical realities" of spending government funds.

In a $5,795,048,921 bill to finance six agencies during the year starting July 1, the committee recommended:

1. Atomic energy commission: $501,850,000 in cash—a cut of $48,150,000 from what President Truman asked but $326,850,000 more than was appropriated this year—plus $400,000,000 in contract authority, the amount the President asked. The actual money to pay for contracts let under the additional authority will be voted next year or later.

2. Veterans Administration: $5,125,309,000 in cash—a cut of $354,600,000—plus $43,000,000 in contract authority as requested. The total is $649,850,000 less than the VA had available this year.

3. Maritime commission: $102,377,831 in cash—a cut of $39,475,139—plus $75,000,000 in contract authorization, $14,858,000 more than was asked.

4. Office of housing expediter: $15,172,100—a cut of $5,327,900.

5. Office of defense transportation: $340,000—a cut of $105,000. The ODT goes out of existence next February 28 unless congress continues it.

6. War assets administration: $50,000,000—a cut of $56,912,000. The committee recommended that the WAA be abolished Aug. 31, and that the budget bureau supervise the $50,000,000 and look after the distribution of records and property now belonging to the WAA.

The $4,225,000,000 in WAA inventories—war surpluses not yet disposed of—would be turned over to other agencies this way: to the reconstruction finance corporation, $2,685,000,000 in real property; to the air force, $873,000,000 in aircraft and parts; to the bureau of federal supply, $667,000,000 in miscellaneous personal property.

Commission Criticised

The committee scorched the atomic energy commission for its "refusal to furnish * * * information and appraisals of its various budgeted items."

There is much to be desired, the committee said, "in establishing the confidence which the committe must have if it is to continue to supply these large grants of funds under conditions of secrecy."

As a matter of fact, the report added, some members feel that the the commission "has taken advantage of its strategic position in modern military defense to avoid facing the practical realities on less important and subsidiary elements of their budget."

The committee cut $2,700,000 from what the AEC had asked to operate its three atomic cities, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Los Alamos, N .M., and Hanford. Wash. It said the cost of running the three cities is "very much out of line."

Research Cuts Advised

It also directed the commission to adjust downward its planned spending for research in the non-weapon, non-biological and non-medical phases.

But it ordered that none of the cuts should be applied to militiary projects.

In calling for an end to such GI training activities as ballroom dancing for fun and pleasure flying, the committee said no tuition fees or other charges should be allowed by the veterans' administration for veterans who enroll after July 1 in advocational or recreational courses. The VA would decide what courses fall in that category. The committee said these courses have been costing around $200,000,000 a year.

Believe Lost Balloon In Pittsburgh Area

By The United Press

DAYTON, June 8 — A 30-foot barrage balloon that tore from its moorings in a storm last night was estimated to be in the vicinity of Pittsburgh early today.

Civil areonautics authority officials said the balloon was dragging a 250-foot cable. They said they were unable to determine how high it might climb as the amount of helium in it was not known, but estimated that if it drifted east at 25 miles per hour it should reach the east coast tonight.

Airmen said the balloon would have to be shot down.

The bag was being used to ballyhoo a new drive-in. It bore on its side the slogan: "The stamp, shot from the sky."

Trial Dates Set for Nine

Plead Guilty at Arraignment; Six Enter Pleas of Innocent.

Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith set trial dates today for nine persons entering not guilty pleas to indictments returned by the May grand jury.

Walter G. Quesenberry represented by Attorney Walter D. Moore drew July 1 as his trial date on a charge of armed robbery in the recent holdup of a filling station near Waldo. His companion William J. Combs, indicted on a like charge, will be tried July 8. Lacking counsel, the court assigned Attorney Don Williamson to defend him.

Trial dates also were set for the following who said they were not guilty as charged: Marvin Ray Warkentien, carrying concealed weapons, June 15, Attorney John W. Watters; Harold Hood, rape with consent, June 16, Attorney Ralph Carhart; Clifford R. Bayles, receiving stolen property, June 17, Attorney Frank Gegenheimer: Marion R. Those entering pleas of guilty were Albert Harris, assault with intent to rob; Peter Boulton, assault with intent to rob; Harry E. Manley, larceny; Charles Stewart, auto larceny; Perry French, arson, and Richard L. Sanderson, auto larceny.

FREAK MISHAP INJURES FIVE

Victims Trapped in Pullman at Columbus Union Station as Cars Hit Locomotive.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 8—Five passengers of a Pennsylvania railroad sleeping car were injured—two seriously—in a freak accident in Union station here last night.

The victims were among 17 passengers trapped in the sleeping car of the New York-bound Spirit of St. Louis when two cars were uncoupled and smashed into the engine of the Metropolitan limited.

The second train was waiting to pull into the station. None of its passengers was injured.

The impact of the crash sprung the doors of the Pullman, trapping the 17 passengers in their sleeping compartments of the Spirit of St. Louis.

Firemen, police and railroad workers dug into the wreckage to free the passengers. The pullman and the observation car were the last two cars on the train.

Injured seriously were E. D. Johnson, 45, of Jennings, Mo., and Charles W. Donker, Baltimore, Md.

The other injured were Hart W. Reaves, 45, Los Angeles; John Avery, 45, Connersville, Ind., and Harry G. Fitzgerald Jr., Black Lick, O.

Firemen worked with acetylene torches for more than an hour to free Johnson from the wreckage. He suffered fractures of both legs and severe lacerations of the lower abdomen.

Firemen cut a hole in the floor of the car to release Fitzgerald, an attorney for the Ohio Public Utilities commission. He suffered a possible broken leg.

Reaves received a fractured right arm. Avery possible back injuries and Donker a fractured pelvis, hospital attendants said.

T. J. Dempsey, engineer of the Metropolitan, said he was standing outside his car watching the streamliner pull by when "the Pullman jumped the track." The observation car followed, he said.

Operators Get 24 Hour Delay in Lewis Parley

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 8 — Soft coal operators today asked for another 24 hours in which to discuss a possible contract offer to John L. Lewis.

At their request, contract negotiations which were to resume at 1 p. m. were postponed until the same hour Wednesday.

The operators held a private huddle at the Statler Hotel over what proposals they should make to the United Mine Workers for a new agreement. The present one expires June 30.

Yesterday, Lewis told them the miners had no specific wage proposals, but wanted "improvements" in pay and also demanded certain guarantees of benefits from the welfare fund. He invited a wage offer from the mine owners.

While the operators talked among themselves, Lewis and his attorneys filed an answer in the federal district court to Ezra Van Horn's suit to halt payments under the compromise pension plan adopted to end the recent strike.

Van Horn is the operators representative of the three-member board of trustees for the miners welfare and pension fund. The fund comes from a 10-cents a ton payment of mine owners for each ton of coal mined.

Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges, the other trustees, agreed this spring on a $100 a month pension plan for elderly miners. Van Horn claims that would bankrupt the fund and that the Lewis-Bridges plan doesn't meet requirements of the Taft-Hartley law.

Lewis' answer to Van Horn's suit says Van Horn has blocked any pension plan at trustees' meetings.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough will hear arguments in the case June 19.

On new contract talks, the coal operators showed little inclination to pick up a bill for $14,000,000 in miners deaths and disability benefits which Lewis tossed on the bargaining table.

The mine owners were slow to reach for the check because no operators served on the board of trustees which lined up future benefits to ailing miners out of the fast-dwindling 1946 welfare fund.

SENATE CENTER ATTENTION ON DRAFT FIGHT

Extra-Hours' Grind Carried on Toward Final Action.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 8—The senate voted today to let the Army enlist 25,000 aliens. The 42 to 32 vote put the provision into the two-year draft bill. Senator Lodge (R-Mass) sponsored it. Under Lodge's plan, the enlistees would be eligible for citizenship after five years of service.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 8 The senate buckled down today to another extra-hours grind which Republican leaders hope will bring final action on a limited draft revival.

The house has a similar bill it plans to take up once the senate passes its measure.

Encouraged by the fact the chamber was able to dispose of seven controversial civil rights amendments in yesterday's 11-hour and 19 minute session, acting majority leader Wherry of Nebraska said he will hold the senate into the night again.

But the chances of a passage vote before tomorrow seemed none too bright. At least seven more amendment await action, including one by Senator Russell (D-Ga) which also touches on the race issue.

The senate wrote in one modified civil rights amendment last night. It voted 37 to 35 to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections so far as members of the armed services are concerned.

Opposed by Southerners

Southern Democrats talked for several hours against this proposal by Senator Langer (R-SD) but permitted it to come to a vote.

Support of the Langer amendment by Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP policy committee and a candidate for his party's presidential nomination, brought a charge by Senator Lucas (D-Ill) that the Republicans violated a "general agreement."

Taft reported that he knew of no such agreement.

The senate's first order of business today was an amendment by Senator Lodge (R-Mass) to permit up to 50,000 aliens to enlist for service in the army outside the United States and its territories.

Also on tap were amendments

▶By Russell, to require race segregation of all enlisted men if they request service and quarters only with men of their own race.

▶By Senator Capehart (R-Ind), to require that the President start any actual drafting, but only after a 90-day delay. The bill being considered by the senate would make registration and induction effective as soon as the bill became law. A provision similar to Capehart's is in the pending house measure.

▶By Morse, to (A) cut the time limit for reviving the draft from five years to two, (B) to cut the period for which men can be inducted from 24 months to 12 months, (C) to place osteopaths on the same basis in the armed services as doctors and dentists and (D) set up a civilian commission of three members to handle the problem of conscientious objectors.

The bill provides for the drafting of men 19 through 25 in sufficient numbers to bring the armed services up to their authorized strengths. It would permit 18-year-olds to volunteer for a year's training.

Teaching Staff Employed For Next School Term

Employment of the 1948-49 teaching staff, approval of the school calendar for next year, and also an elementary workshop to be held some time in November were major items in the business session of th Marion board of education last night at the school administration building.

Several resignations were received and three new teachers were employed. With the exception of teachers whose resignations were accepted the present staff was reemployed under the salary schedule now in effect. New on the staff are Miss Barbara Brewer who has completed a cadet course at Bowling Green State university, Miss Peggy Hale, who was graduated this month from Ohio Wesleyan university, and Miss Margy Boone, a graduate this month from Ohio State university. Miss Brewer and Miss Hale will be assigned to elementary schools and Miss Boone will take a position in the commercial department at Harding High school. The following resignations were accepted: Miss Mildred Booth, instructor of the sight-saving class at George Washington school, Miss Marilyn Beal, second grade teacher at Greenwood school, Bertha Sorgen, a teacher at the North Main street building, Mrs. Yula Dickerson, Oakland Heights, and Mrs. Dorothy Woods, Harding High school.

On the recommendation of Superintendent Lester L. Dickey, the following teachers were granted continuing contracts; Lenore Bradley, Silver street, W. N. Wiley, social science instructor at Harding and Mildred Link, modern language instructor at Harding.

New Program Feature

The elementary school workshop to be conducted the week of Nov. 15, will be a new feature in the school program next year. Mrs. Verna Walters, director of elementary school curriculum in the state department of education, will conduct the workshop in cooperation with the junior high schools.

Authorization of pre-term preparatory work in athletics was given by the board. High school coaches, William Howison, Kenneth Somerlot, George Keel and Howard Thomas were employed to begin varsity football practice Aug 20, and on this date D. N. Bohyer and E. Paul Huffman were authorized to start work on football programs in readiness for the opening of the school term.

Following an annual custom a summer school will be conducted at Harding High school for pupils wishing to do additional school work. The board approved the employment of A. C. May, Harding principal, for the summer term which will be held from June 14 to July 23.

Appreciation Voted

The board voiced appreciation to the Y's Men's Service club for the installation of two basketball courts, one at Edison and one at Vernon Heights Junior High schools, and a letter was read from Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V.F., expressing the appreciation of St. Mary's Athletic association to the board and personnel at Edison Junior High school for their cooperation during the basketball season. The letter follows:

"It is with genuine pleasure that we inclose this check in payment for the rental of Edison gymnasium for games and practices of basketball during the past season. Permit us to compliment the personnel at the Edison school for their genuine interest in providing all things necessary for a successful practice season or enjoyment of a game.

"Thanking the board for their

Marionite In Academy Class

Stewart Young Gets Diploma and Commission as Second Lieutenant.

Cadet Stewart Young, 21, son of Mrs. Eliza Young of 252 Clover avenue, was graduated today from the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. At 10 a. m. he received his diploma for a bachelor of science degree and his commission as a second lieutenant, United States Air Force, from James Forrestal, secretary of defense, who delivered the graduation address.

Lt. Young's mother, and his sister, Mrs. Jack Zeisler of Chicago, attended the graduation ceremonies.

At West Point Lt. Young continued a scholastic record which graduated him as a valedictorian from Harding High school in 1944 at the age of 17.

Principal A. C. May of Harding High in reviewing his record today said. "Stewart Young was an outstanding student in every sense of the word. He maintained a straight A average for his entire three years at Harding, and graduated at the top of his class in the college preparatory course.

"His athletic record which has been outstanding at West Point was equally notable here.

"As at West Point he was a three-year football letterman at Harding. He also was a three-year varsity letterman in basketball and a member of the track team. His greatest interest in high school was in mathematical and scientific studies but he was equally adept in the classics and fine arts, Mr. May said. He was active in extra-curricular activities at Harding, serving as class treasurer in the ninth grade at Vernon Junior high and held the same office in his senior year. He was a member of the National Honor Society, Inter Nos Latin club, Ye Merry Players club, Junior-year member of the prom committee, and senior invitation committee, a leader in the Junior Red Cross, a three-year member of the Hi-Y, and a member of the cast of the senior class play.

Lt. Young was appointed a cadet at West Point by Cong. Frederick C. Smith shortly after his graduation from Harding in 1944. During his first class year he attained the rank of cadet lieutenant and for three years was a member of the football team. A broken arm suffered in practice sessions was all that kept him from a regular berth as first string end on the Army team during last season.

He was a member of the duty committee for his class which

ARABS DRAFT TRUCE ANSWER

Bernadotte To Get It Tomorrow; Jews' Expected at Same Time.

By The United Press

CAIRO, June 8—Representatives of the seven Arab League states were scheduled to meet today to draft an answer to Count Folke Bernadotte's proposals for an Arab-Jewish truce in the Holy Land.

Egyptian Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha said the Arab answer will be delivered tomorrow morning. It was presumed the Jewish answer would be delivered to Bernadotte at the same time.

After the Arab meeting at the foreign office here, Foreign Minister Fawzi El Molki told newsmen he felt that neither side should profit from the proposed truce. He said both Arabs and Jews should hold their present positions.

Calls for Clear Answer

Bernadotte has not made his proposals public, but it was understood he had demanded a straightforward yes or no answer to a compromise he had worked out on the major issues of Jewish immigration and supplying the 100,000 Jews in Jerusalem.

Jewish immigrants will be supervised by a truce commission to make sure they do not enter the Israeli army, it was understood, and the Red Cross will provide 28 days rations for the Jewish community of Jerusalem.

Extraordinary activity took place among Arab league leaders yesterday when Bernadotte presented them with his proposals. Secretary General Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha of the Arab league conferred with King Farouk of Egypt and both the king and Azzam Pasha conferred with Bernadotte.

A meeting of other league representatives broke up last night without definite action when Azzam Pasha was unable to attend because of a two-hour meeting with Bernadotte.

Army Fund's Decreed

King Farouk meanwhile issued a decree authorizing the government to increase appropriations for the Egyptian army from $36,000,000 to $120,000,000.

An Egyptian communique said Egyptian forces have occupied the Jewish settlement of Nitzanim, on the Mediterranean coast midway between Majdal and Isdud. One hundred and 10 Israeli were captured and many times that number killed and wounded, the communique said.

Egyptian bombers again attacked Rehovot, five miles southeast of Ramleh, the communique said.

MIDWEST TORNADOES TAKE TOLL OF DEATH

By The United Press

Two persons were killed, a third is missing and three others suffered severe injuries in tornadoes and violent windstorms that struck the midwest late yesterday, rescue workers said today.

The dead were 10-year-old Gayle Mullin, killed when a tornado destroyed her farm home near Henryville, Ind., and Joseph Ciaramita, 32, South Beloit, Ill., whose truck was struck by a falling tree during a storm at Clinton, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mullin, parents of Gayle, suffered injuries when the tornado wrecked their home. Another daughter Mildred is unaccounted for.

Another Henryville resident, Mrs. Emma Applegate, was in serious condition at St. Anthony hospital in New Albany, Ind.; she suffered a fractured skull when she was hit by a flying brick.

At Anderson, Ind., the worst hail storm in 35 years smashed windows and damaged house tops. Some hailstones were 1½ inches in diameter. Police reported that 43 windows were shattered in the Anderson hotel.

High winds were reported over many sections of the state, with some damage occurring at South Bend.

Dayton Officials In Marion for Ceremony.

Ground was broken here yesterday for the central unit of the $5,000,000 atomic energy research project to be operated by the Monsanto Chemical Co. for the Atomic Energy Commission.

A five-ton drag line took the place of the traditional shovel as first earth was moved by the Maxon Construction Co. as project officials and Marion representatives including Mayor Harry L. Dowler, looked on.

Ground breaking was launched formally shortly after 2 p. m. following arrival here at noon of Monsanto and AEC officials from Dayton.

Present at the Scioto Ordnance area site were Dr. Malcolm M. Haring, director of the Monsanto Atomic laboratory at Miamisburg, Nolan Varley, deputy manager for the AEC Dayton area, Chester T. Budnik, Maxon company operations chief here, H. L. Hudson, field representative for the architectural firm of Giffels and Vallet who designed the building and other Monsanto and AEC representatives.

These included W. D. Woods of the Monsanto legal and security division, Joseph J. Spicka, business manager, Edward McCarthy, assistant operations manager, Clarence S. Baker, security chief, John R. Wiesler, director of engineering, George C. Gabler, project manager and Larry Schulenburg, public relations department.

Also present were Frank F. Callaghan, chief of security for the AEC Dayton area, Paul Leonard, assistant project manager for the Maxon company, H. E. Webster, secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. The visiting officials were guests of the Chamber's Manufacturer's Council at its regular luncheon meeting at the Hotel Harding.

Explains Purpose of Plant

Dr. Haring in remarking upon the purposes of the project pointed out that considerable information about atomic energy was known before the war but scarcity of materials and costs that were high out of sight precluded extensive research.

"This is an additional facility for research and development which the Atomic Energy Commission has asked Monsanto to build and operate", he said.

"The possible application of atomic energy is beyond comprehension and this plant should aid materially in research and development in this field," he declared.

It is not the first AEC program for Monsanto as during World War II the company was instrumental in atomic energy development carried on at the Clinton Laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., site of the huge government atomic plant. Prescott Sandidge, assistant director at the Monsanto Central research department at Dayton, served as Clinton laboratory director.

Marion representatives were admitted to the site of the new installation by special pass provided by G. E. Gabler, project manager, as security provisions are being rigidly enforced.

Considerable progress in the development of the Monsanto area was immediately apparent. The two main groups of buildings lying north of the Likens road and east of the Lucas road have been leased in and are in the process of being converted to project purposes.

These include machine shops, power plant, warehouse and garage. A concrete plant for new construction purposes is going up west of the power plant. Earth moving equipment including bulldozers, turnapulls and a drag line for the new laboratory building, were engaged in preparing the site for the new laboratory building. This will be centrally located between the power plant and shop group of buildings and the warehouse area extending east along Likens road.

100 Now Employed

Mr. Budnik indicated that there were approximately 100 employed at the present time but the number would be increased as construction progressed. Approximately 500 workers will be employed in the course of project development.

Budnik reported that the Monsanto atomic energy laboratory at Miamisburg was virtually complete except for finishing touches and that the Maxon company intended to shift experienced men up here to work on the Scioto Laboratory.

He indicated that footings for the new building which measures 300 by 340 feet may be poured within several weeks. Bulldozers were "peeling sod from the site of the building yesterday. The job should take about nine months to complete, he said.

Concerning the labor situation, Mr. Budnik reported that the Maxon company in the past has operated AFL but would operate here in accordance with the Taft-Hartley Law. He indicated that the company would adhere to the local prevailing wage scales, making no attempt to "pirate" workers.

Concerning materials and supplies to be used in construction,

U.S. FINDS AIR ROUTE IDEAL

Practice and Training Include Daily Use of Run from Germany to Mideast.

By The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, June 8—Flights of American B-29 superfortresses between Germany and the Arab world are an almost daily occurrence.

Many a person has asked What does this mean? Does the United States expect to get involved in war fare in the middle east? Is it a plan to familiarize U. S. airmen with that area.

Airforce officials say "no." They say the object is nothing more than what the airforce says it is: "Navigational flight training." The Germany-Africa-middle east route is favored because it offers some of the best "all-terrain, all-weather" practice in the world.

Airmen explain it this way: A modern airforce to justify itself must be able to operate anywhere over the globe. The crews must become proficient in long hops under varied conditions. Bases to accommodate aircraft as large as the B-29s are few and available routes consequently are limited.

In this situation, the 3,600-mile run from Furstenfeldbruck, Germany to Dhahran, Saudi Arabia is virtually ideal.

The fliers first get transatlantic experience in bringing their craft from the United States. Then, almost immediately after taking off from Furstenfeldbruck for Africa, they are faced with a high-altitude problem in clearing the Alps.

Route Changed

They get more over-water practice in crossing the Mediterranean and, on the run to Dhahran, the last leg is flown over a blazing hot desert.

The runs to Dhahran were suspended May 24 because of "unsettled conditions"—meaning warfare—in the middle east. The airforce did not want either battling faction to get the idea the flights were intended to support or intimidate one side or the other.

On the same day a squadron set out for Benghazi in Libya, well west of the fighting area, to continue the training program.

The need for giving fliers varied weather and terrain experience was noted during the war. A man who trained over Texas plains, for instance, found on arriving in Europe that he was up against something new—fogs over England, changeable weather, sudden storms and high hills in Germany.

Varied Training in Plan

The peacetime plan is to give fliers practice in every type of conditions they might encounter should the U. S. airforce ever again have to go into action.

It is an expensive proposition to send the B-29s on their long training flights. Consequently to get full value for the long-range practice program is gruelling and intensive. Usually there is one squadron of nine or ten planes based at Furstenfeldbruck at one time. When one squadron leaves for the United States, another one arrives to take its place.

Miss Lois Kramer entertained with vocal numbers, "In the Garden" and "Just A Wearyin'." Mrs. Pearl Wright gave a review of "So Dear to My Heart" by Sterling North. Mrs. Jennie Alexander and Mrs. Helen Cookston presided at the refreshment table centered with lighted tapers and golden flowers carrying out a decorative theme.

Guests included Mrs. Clay Wilson, Mrs. Dessie Williams, Mrs. Kenneth Schultz, Mrs. Henry Coon, Mrs. Philip Gustin, Mrs. Wesley Jenner, Mrs. Pearl Wilson, Mrs. O. E. Hart, Mrs. Edna Cates, Mrs. Iva Peters, Mrs. Homer Rhoads, Mrs. Samuel Cross, Mrs. Merle Kennedy, Mrs. Clara Kagey, Mrs. Robert Ruth and Mrs. Maude Buck.

Mrs. Kenneth Coon, Mrs. Jack Seiter and Miss Marguerite Hoszman were in charge of arrangements.

Flower Mission Held At Marion Co. Home

The Marion County WCTU held its annual "flower mission" service Sunday afternoon at the Marion County Home. The six unions in the county participated in preparing the program. They are Anna Gordon, Mary Harris Armor, Frances Willard and Florence Richards unions, all of Marion, the LaRue union and the Kirkpatrick union.

A devotional service was in charge of Mrs. Fred Upton, who used the 23rd Psalm as her theme. The program, in charge of Mrs. James Barkley, included piano numbers by Carolyn Jones, selections on the auto-harp by John Wren, recitation by Tommy Thomas, vocal duet by Mrs. D. H. Hochstettler and James Angel, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Noble, humorous reading by Mrs. C. A. Thomas, cornet numbers by Leslie McGuire Jr., and the WCTU benediction by the group.

Bouquets of flowers with a scripture verse attached were presented to each of the persons of the home, and refreshments were served. Mrs. Barkley is county director of the flower mission department.

The Truman Campaign Line

WHEN Mr Truman began his campaign for the presidency a few days ago, he was an unknown quantity. The purpose of the trip was to reveal his campaign character. The outline has been sketched.

The Truman line is to be the one followed with great success by his predecessor. Mr Truman will abuse congress and blame it for everything under the sun to him.

He will make a bold play to all groups on the left, depending as Mr Roosevelt did on party loyalty to hold conservative Democrats in line.

He will try to make it appear that he personally is the only friend farmers have in Washington.

He will put himself forward as the sole defender of organized labor.

He will run for office in the tattered cloak of New Deal "liberalism."

The newspapermen traveling with him have summed it up in a wisecrack—that Mr. Truman has decided to be a sheep in Roosevelt's clothing. Perhaps it's a smart decision. But the fact is painfully obvious that Mr. Truman on the stump is not Mr. Roosevelt. He is just Harry Truman, who became president because someone had to run on the ticket with Mr Roosevelt in 1944 and Henry Wallace gave cold chills to the kingmakers.

The revelation of Mr. Truman's campaign character is interesting. The public will follow it closely. It has a vested interest in the proceedings, which are being paid for out of public funds under the shabby pretext that Mr. Truman isn't running for office but making a tour of inspection.

Benes, Still a Realist

IN HIS long political career, Eduard Benes has been true to the same instinct for realism that prompted his resignation this week as president of Czechoslovakia. He believed in affirmative action. He had no confidence in waiting for something to turn up.

He could have continued to be president of a country which has lost its autonomy to Russian-directed officials. He could have marked time and waited for something to turn up. He chose, instead, to use the only power he had left—his disapproval of the Communist-dominated government.

During World War I he collaborated with Dr. Masaryk to lead the Czech nationalist movement that threw off the Hapsburg yoke and restored Czechoslovak independence. For a third of a century he was one of the natural leaders of his country. He helped it reach independence. He stood by it during the Munich crisis when its British and French sponsors used it as a piece of meat to appease a hungry Hitler. He saw it taken over by a Moscow-guided conspiracy last February.

Dr. Benes was the last tie with the generation of Czechs that dared to believe the sovereignty of small nations could be protected against the power politics of their stronger neighbors. His resignation is the final courageous act of one of the very few statesmen of the 20th century.

His Name Survives

MORE THAN 2,000 makes of automobiles have been on the American market since the turn of the century. Charles W. Nash, who died Sunday, is one of the comparatively few whose name survives on an extant make.

He has that in common with the select company of industrial pioneers which includes Louis Chevrolet, Robert F. Olds, David Dunbar Buick, Henry Ford, Walter P. Chrysler and the Dodge and Packard brothers.

Young Nash ran away from home to work on farms. Then he became an apprentice carriage maker in William C. Durant's factory. When Durant turned his attention to automobiles, Mr. Nash became his general manager and later served as president of General Motors before stepping out to form his own company. Many independents fell by the wayside in this era of consolidation but Nash succeeded in holding its own.

Mr. Nash was known personally and affectionately to all his veteran employes. The car that bears his name is a tribute to his personality as well as his business acumen.

The Lords Stop One

BRITAIN'S house of commons will reconsider the law it passed last April revoking the death penalty. The house of Lords, usually no more than a rubber stamp, has attacked the bill and shows no inclination to pass it. The church penologists oppose it. Public opinion polls show 3 to 1 in favor of capital punishment and there has been a sudden increase in homicide cases.

The matter poses a problem for the labor government, which has power and prestige. To allow the upper house to use what is in effect a veto wouldn't be in line with government policy. Yet commons obviously has passed an ill-advised measure. A possible way out of the predicament is to advance the effective date of the bill several years, then quietly appeal it a year or two hence when all the hubbub has subsided.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

A View of Moral Responsibilities.

NO ONE has brought charges against John C. Virden who is an official of the department of commerce. It is suggested that because his daughter is an employe of the Tass News Agency and is therefore acceptable to Soviet Russia, the latter must suffer for the sins of his child.

What father in a free society can be made responsible for the aberrations of his children? Or what child can be held responsible for the sins of the parent? Our social system is based upon the concept of individual responsibility and obligation. Each adult human being stands on his own, liable to the law for his personal actions. That has not always been true everywhere. In an older China, someone had to pay for a crime. It could even be a substitute. A son might sacrifice himself for a father; a near relative might be executed to placate the prosecution in Soviet Russia today; parents or other near relatives might be made to pay the penalty for the political misconduct of one of close kinship. Often when Russians are sent on foreign missions their children remain under the guardianship of the Soviet government to keep the parent in line.

SOKOLSKY

Choose Their Own Course

We have never pursued such a public policy in this country. The American child learns early to do his own way. Republican parents continue to love their Democratic or Socialistic children. It might be said that Mr. Virden is guilty of having sent his daughter to Sarah Lawrence college, but would he have fared any better had he sent her to Smith or Vassar or Bennington? Or is there any assurance that Miss Virden will not one day return to the fold of loyal and patriotic Americans unacceptable to Soviet Russia? Some of the most valiant fighters against Communism are former party members and fellow-travelers. Ben Gitlow, J. B. Matthews, Jay Lovestone, Eugene Lyons—only to mention a few.

Similarly, one of the most dastardly and disgusting attacks has recently been made upon Paul H. Nitze, one of the authors of the Marshall plan, by the Society for the Prevention of World War III, Inc. Paul Nitze is one of the most competent young men in our government, a former associate of James Forrestal and David Reed, who gave the county Jones Forrestal, secretary of defense and Ferdinand Eberstadt, who assisted Bernard Baruch to write the American atom bomb plan.

Flimsy Charges

The extremely flimsy and covert attack on Paul Nitze is greatly with no more except that he had a father and that he was not born a native. His father was once professor of the department of economics and literature at the University of Chicago but, according to the bulletin, he was defending Germany after World War I. Also Paul's mother, Anna Sophie Hinken, was of a prominent Baltimore family of German origin and her father became German consul general in Baltimore at the age of 83.

Precisely what has that to do with Paul Nitze's ability to serve his country in the year 1948? One might as well say that because his mother-in-law is former Congresswoman Ruth Pratt, once a member of the Republican national committee, he ought not to serve his country in a Democratic administration.

Suppose everything this society which continues to spread slander in the world, has to say about Paul Nitze's father is true. What has that to do with Paul? Under our way of life, sons are not collectively guilty with their fathers.

Leaders In Organization

This society is officered by Mark Van Doren, acting chairman, Edgar Ansel Mowrer, vice president, and includes among its directors the following: Norman Corwin, Thomas Craven, Frederick W. Forrester, Julius L. Goldstein, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Isidore Lipschutz, Mrs. Norman M. Little, Emil Ludwig, Eric Mann, Herbert Peli, William J. Schieffelin, Harry Louis Selden, Major M. Wheeler - Nicholson, Gregor Ziemer.

Certainly these persons are responsible for perpetrating this outrage against an upright American and whereas they have incorporated to limit their personal liability, they cannot dodge their moral responsibility for a vulgar and miserable articulation of the doctrine of collective guilt. Their hatred of everything German is so great that they would visit their spleen even into the third and fourth generation - a practice for which we abominated Hitler.

Political Battle in ERP

By Walter Lippmann

INSOFAR as the damage done by Speaker Martin and Mr. Taber can be repaired at all, it can be repaired only at Philadelphia. For the best that the senate can do in the next two weeks is to restore the funds which the Republicans who control the house, abetted by the Democrats who chose to be absent, have refused to appropriate, but even if Senator Vandenberg and his colleagues are entirely successful in this, the European Recovery Program will still have been struck a paralyzing blow.

LIPPMANN

The action of the house has shown that within the Republican party organization the dominating bosses do not accept, and are determined to reverse, the line of foreign policy represented by Vandenberg, Dewey, Stassen, Warren and even Taft. The action of the house shows also that President Truman has lost all leadership and influence over the bulk of the Democrats. For without the defection of the Democrats, it would not have been possible for Speaker Martin to carry out the coup.

The objective of the coup is not "economy." Much more than a billion dollars is at stake. The objective of the coup is the control of the Republican party and of the next administration. The carefully engineered and ruthlessly executed action in the house last week was the preliminary phase of a larger plan, which will be attempted at Philadelphia—a plan to defeat the new postwar Republican leaders, to prevent the reconstruction of the party, to make a record and to write a platform and to nominate a ticket which could fit only a Martin, a Bricker, or conceivably Taft.

The Republican bosses who are conducting this campaign are not animated primarily by isolationist convictions but the knowledge that they can retain their political power only if they can recommit the party to the isolationist position with which they have so long been identified.

Won't Settle Issue

For that reason a mere restoration of the funds, worked out by compromise, will not settle the real issue. It can be settled only if the candidates nominated at Philadelphia, and the platform on which they and the candidates for senator and representatives are to run, represent clearly the line of policy which Vandenberg, Dewey, and Stassen are identified. For only then will this country and the world have any reasonable assurance that next year Martin and Taber will not abolish the program which this year they have injured so seriously.

The gravity of the decisions which will be made at the Philadelphia convention can hardly be exaggerated. For there is every prospect that the Republicans will win the election. If they are to win it with their party led or dominated by Speaker Martin and his associates, this country can not and will not play a leading and constructive role in recovery and in world settlement. An administration led or dominated by the men who ran wild in the house last Friday evening will be not a national government but a clearing house for special interests, pressure groups, and lobbyists.

If the National Republicans are defeated at Philadelphia, a crisis of enormous depth and scope will develop all over the world. The only hope of arresting and mastering this crisis will be in a recognition by President Truman that he must step aside in order to lead what would then become a bipartisan movement to draft Eisenhower.

Let us hope that no such desperate expedient as that will be necessary. For after 16 years the country needs a Republican administration, and not the four years of excitement and confusion which would almost surely result from a draft, an improvised coalition, and the substitution of personal government for responsible party government. But if the Republicans at Philadelphia prove to be incapable of offering the country responsible national party government then desperate expedients will be necessary.

Speedup

In any event, the European Recovery program is saved, though the Republicans are to the occasion at Philadelphia, we are and shall be involved in a vast and exceedingly complex readjustment in the international situation. The action of the house is bound, I venture to predict, to accelerate and precipitate developments which would have come anyway—but more slowly and in more manageable form.

The developments turn upon the complicated and reciprocal relations between the Soviet peace offensive on the one hand and, on the other, the great difficulties of the British position at home and in the commonwealth and empire, the German crisis which is destined to become a Franco-German, indeed a European crisis, and on the deliberations of the Truman administration.

Position Is Precarious

It is not possible to discern and define clearly the shape of these developments. But it is evident that the financial position of Britain, even with full ERP aid, is precarious, and that events like those which have happened in South Africa, the failure of the Arab League policy and the vulnerability of the sterling area will call for acts of statesmanship in London and in Washington for which neither is at the moment prepared.

Just a Minute

"I Shall Return"
But Later, Please

General MacArthur has declined to return to the United States until after the Republican national convention.

It's probably just as well. He couldn't get a hotel room in Philadelphia this late anyway.

He gives as his reason that someone might think his return had political significance. As if anything he might say after Wisconsin, wouldn't be considered non-political.

One battle may not win a war. But in politics as Mr. Stassen will tell you, some early win is as good as your last primary.

There's a lot of difference in political and military campaigning. The Geneva convention didn't lay down rules for civilized political warfare, for one thing.

MacArthur's experience has been against one foe at a time. He'd be completely at a loss in the Republican battle royal.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, June 8, 1938.

The new bombardments raised civilian casualties in Canton, China, to at least 3,000 killed and 5,000 wounded in 12 successive days of Japanese air raids.

Postmaster L. L. Lamborn was among several Ohio postmasters nominated for appointment to new terms by President Roosevelt.

Mrs. Wilbur H. Symes was elected president at the picnic meeting and annual election of officers of the Woman's Board of the Marion City hospital, held at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Schaffner on St. James street.

The tenth annual reunion of pupils of the Edison, Morrow County High school was held at the home of Mrs. Josie Curl on East Church street. Mrs. Eva Potts of Mt. Gilead was elected president and Mrs. Blanche Hickson of Caledonia, secretary.

Fans were talking about a new find in baseball, a 16-year-old youth from Mt. Gilead, who a few days previous had pitched his team to a one-hit victory over the Columbus Ideal Cleaners. The youthful hurler, England by name, hurled eight hitless innings before a slow roller past second in the first of the ninth ruined his chances for a classic no-hit performance.

Mrs. E. R. Bondley presided as installing officer when Mrs. Rose Helwig took office as head of the Shrine Sewing circle. Mrs. Roxie Davis was installed as vice president and Mrs. Anna Heiser, secretary.

It was Friday, June 8, 1928.

Announcement was made that Grant F. Mouser Jr., assistant attorney general and a former Marion city solicitor, would be a candidate in the August primary for the Republican Eighth district congressional nomination.

Mrs. J. B. Hoover and daughter Margaret of East George street went to Cincinnati to attend the commencement exercises and golden jubilee of the College of Music.

Mrs. David Jenner of East Church street and daughter, Mrs. Jacob Bolinger of Pleasant Acres went to Chicago to visit Mr. and Mrs. Paul Marshall.

Two hundred pupils were enrolled in the city vacation school opening at the Harding High school building.

Stock quotations on the New York market included American Telegraph & Telephone 181⅛, Chesapeake & Ohio 189⅜, General Motors 190½, U. S. Steel 142⅜, and International Harvester 264.

Mrs. S. A. Hollenbaugh was hostess to the Superba club at her home on Bellevue avenue.

The Le Vendredi club held a guest day party at the home of Mrs. Pearl Thatcher on South Prospect street.

Our Russian Policy

By Raymond Moley

THE State department has now issued another blast at the USSR in the current cold war of hot words. It is a listing of 37 cases of Soviet violations of international agreements. It is a list which will probably be followed by an answer impressive only to the Communists and Henry Wallace. There has been quite an exchange since General-Ambassador Smith accidentally threw the ball into play.

MOLEY

True, General Smith says he was imposed upon. Considering the fact that he is no diplomat, that is not surprising. But of all places where we need a diplomat who won't be imposed upon, it is the Kremlin. General Smith is only the latest of a long series of ambassadors, beginning with William Bullitt 15 years ago, who seem to have been inept. This is not to argue that the Soviet government has a case. It is merely to say that we have not sent a representative there whose personal qualifications seem to be equal to the job.

The Kremlin in these days is a place for an American ambassador of the quality of Charles Francis Adams, who held off Britain during our Civil war, or John Bigelow, who accomplished the same thing in France at the same time. It may be hard to get a man of that caliber, but certainly there are many American business and professional men who are more skilful in negotiation than is General Smith.

No Laurels Added

The character of the Soviet-American exchange—as evidenced by the state department's statements and some hostile and misleading press comments which have appeared—is hardly favorable to American prestige in Western Europe and in Asia. There are increasing suggestions that General Marshall himself might step down and give somebody else a chance. As one man put it: "A manager in big league baseball may be a great fellow, but if he can't win games, somebody else must step in."

Our government is dealing with a power which has little diplomatic principle. It is true. Also, the Soviet government has developed the art of exasperation to an astonishing degree. But that makes it still more essential that we turn such moves of the Soviet as their first statement and Stalin's answer to Wallace to better account in Western Europe and the rest of the world. It is not sufficient to say that we use only American methods. Nobody cares who invented the methods. What matters is that they be more effective.

Unfavorable Picture

As it is, we are creating the impression that our diplomatic moves are determined in the light of a political campaign at home. That is what the Wallace exchange suggested to the world.

We are dealing with a situation in which our answers cannot all be negative. Nor can they be confined to the repetition of propositions we have made in the past and which Russia ignored or rebuffed. We must invent new propositiones which would show no weakening in our position but which would put Russia to the pains of finding new reasons for disagreement.

In short, we must reestablish the diplomatic offensive which we have surrendered to Russia. The way to impress the world is to make it plain that we are trying to make peace and that Russia is unwilling to cooperate.

Love Nests for Six

A voice from offstage asked dutifully, "What?"

"My wife and I are a little past the love nest stage," replied the ex-GI. "It hasn't occurred to many patrols yet but the war began nine years ago next September. Me, personally, I became a soldier boy early in 1941, when I was seven years ago. Don't [illegible] it around because it might upset the [illegible] who never get tired of talking about the last war. I am not a soldier boy any more. I've grown up. I have four kids and a bald spot. And I was before it was a little late for a love nest. I couldn't wait, you see. "Furthermore, when there were little chickens, they were kept in something separate called a brooder house. Maybe what this country needs is brooder houses for the rising generation. Otherwise, what do they expect people to do with their kids—keep them in the refrigerator? Is it just my impression, or is it really true that the fatheads who have loused up the housing situation for a whole generation of American men and women are getting to take into account the old American custom of having families?

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I was astonished to see my father, really fatuous in his adoration of his small daughter, and his head in agreement with Katharine's pronouncement.

"Yes, it is better that she be away from here for a time," he said, "at least until after Noel has gone."

Then his voice took on a sterner note, and I realized with a carefully hidden smile, that he was glad to have a scapegoat for Faith's sins of indiscretion.

"But there is the lad who needs disciplined," he said. "Hasn't he any sense at all?"

"Not too much," Katharine said dryly, "but he means well. And I don't believe he'll speak out of turn again, not after Mary gets through with him. He won't know he's getting flayed, she'll punctuate the process with kisses but his outer epidermis will be removed in several places."

"Hush!" I whispered, and quirked my eyebrows toward the bedroom door which I had been watching, and which was slowly opening.

Katharine sank back into her chair, and Mary came into the room, Noel holding the door open for her as he always does, and then following, after he had closed the door.

"I hope that coffee is on its way up," Mary said gaily. "I could use a cup or two."

"Room Service promised to rush it up," I told her, and Noel held Mary's chair out for her as she slipped into place, then took a seat beside her. Katharine, my father and I were still in our seats.

"I'll bet you ordered two pots," she said, with a gamin grin at me.

"I'll not bet with you," I told her with an answering smile. "We're having extra coffee with you. We need it."

Mary gave me a quick look. "A session with Faith?" she asked. "Tell me."

I retold the saga I just had given Katharine, and while Mary's eyes held amazement, Noel's were full of contrition which I was not sorry to see. He'll think twice the next time, I told myself a bit viciously, before he blurts out indiscreet statements in Faith's hearing.

"I'm so sorry," he said with such humble apology in his voice that I relented. "I guess I spilled a nice mess of beans."

"I think Dicky has scooped them all back into the pot by this time," I told him. "And there isn't too much harm done. We've already decided to keep Faith home from nursery school, and virtually incommunicado until we reach Sag Harbor farm house. Of course, I would much rather that she does not know of the scheduled wedding, or of Georges presence in this country until we reach there. But if she does guess things, she really will have little chance to do any harm."

"I'm so glad," he said with a relieved sigh, and I hastened to switch the subject to less troubled channels.

"I can answer your questions now," I said. "Georges reached sanctuary safely, he is behaving beautifully, co-operating with Mr. K., who has been appointed his guardian angel, mentor."

I smiled at my father as I finished, and he sent me a return smile of appraisal.

"Olga will be glad to hear that, Noel said. "Do you think—"

I shook my head almost at once, and told her everything about Georges." I said, making the [illegible] that I was thankful it fell to me to keep many things about the final plan by which I could omit from the conversation.

My father struck into the conversation decisively.

"I have to talk with Philip—and Olga and this camouflaged wedding by the house party, and the publicity for it," he said. "May I suggest that you have Philip bring Olga down here, and then I will go back up to their suite with him."

"That would be a wonderful arrangement," I said, and the arrival of Room Service with the coffee punctuated my statement.

Open Church Ceremony Marks Wedding Here

CALVARY Evangelical United Brethren church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Lois Strine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Strine of Harding Highway E., and Rev. John Paul Sutherland, Sunday afternoon, in an open church ceremony. The bridegroom's father, Rev. R. E. Sutherland, and his brother, Rev. James Sutherland, pastor of Emanuel Evangelical United Brethren church at Akron, officiated for the double ring ceremony read at 3:30 o'clock.

A half-hour program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony. Mrs. J. W. Baker, organist played "Why Do I Love You?" "At Dawning," "Oh Promise Me" and the wedding marches. Mrs. Durlan Dumm, sister of the bridegroom sang "Because," Rev. Robert Sutherland, a brother, sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told," and they sang a duet, "I Love You Truly." Completing the musical program were two violin numbers, "The Desert Song" and "Always," by William Patterson, a college roommate of the bridegroom.

Palms, baskets of white gladioli and tapers held in four candelabra formed the background for the ceremony. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white satin had a sweetheart neckline, and the long sleeves extended over the hands. The full skirt, which ended in a long train, was joined to the scalloped waistline with a beaded yoke. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion edged with lace and she carried a white Bible marked with an orchid and white ribbon streamers. She wore the bridegroom's gift, a strand of pearls. For the traditional something old she carried a handkerchief belonging to her mother, a gift from her grandmother, the streamers on the Bible held forget-me-nots and for good luck she wore a coin in her shoe.

Miss Jean Arnold, aunt of the bride, was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Lois Deeds of Akron and Miss Patricia Guy; Miss Ann Strine, sister of the bride was the junior bridesmaid and Loretta Thomas was the flower girl. Miss Arnold was in lime green taffeta, Miss Deeds and Miss Guy pink taffeta, and the junior bridesmaid wore a pink and white organdy dress. Fashioned with net yokes accented with ruffles, the fitted bodices had short puffed sleeves and the skirts were gathered full. Each wore a bandeau of carnations. The maid of honor carried a sheath of pink and white carnations and the bridesmaids' flowers were green and white carnations. The flower girl, wearing a white taffeta frock scattered rose petals. Miss Lois Hughes, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Richard Bender, wearing blue taffeta dresses and shoulder corsages of pink carnations, lighted the candles.

Roy L. Sutherland Jr., of Chicago, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and ushers were Eugene Sutherland of Fond du Lac, Wis., also a brother, Melvin Hughes of Warren, Durlan Dumm of Ashland, Ky. brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Mervaine Limbaugh and Russell Bender were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Strine wore a green two piece print costume, white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Sutherland, wife of Rev. R. E. Sutherland, was costumed in a gown of tea rose crepe and wore white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Appointments were in the bride's colors of pink and green. Serving were Mrs. L. E. Hughes, Mrs. W. P. Brady, Mrs. D. J. Cramer, Mrs. L. H. Parker, aunts of the bride and Miss Maeola Arnold, the bride's cousin and Mrs. J. C. Davis.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride was wearing a tan butcher linen dress with brown and white accessories and her wedding orchid. They will make their home with the bride's parents this summer after which Rev. Sutherland will receive an appointment in the Ohio Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren church.

Mrs. Sutherland is a graduate of Harding High school with the class of 1947 and for the last year was enrolled as a student at Asbury college, Wilmore, Ky. Rev. Sutherland was graduated from Harding High school in 1944 and recently completed his work for his A. B. degree at Asbury college.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Parker and children of Eden, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. William Dumm and Miss Ruth Ann Sutherland of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. Brice Trapp of Lodi, O., Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bad Pain That's Not Serious

The seriousness of a disease cannot always be judged by the severity of its symptoms.

We all know that cancer, one of the most deadly of all ailments, may cause no discomfort at all for long periods of time. On the other hand, Devil's Grip, which starts with a sudden excruciating pain in the lower part of the chest, makes its victims feel very sick indeed but is not in any way endangering life.

There is considerable present concern with this disorder because it seems to be appearing more frequently in this country, the most recent outbreak having occurred in New England in epidemic proportions. Perhaps its chief interest lies in the fact that it is easily confused with pneumonia, influenza, poliomyelitis or some inflammation of the stomach or bowel, because Devil's Grip is a self-limited disease. In other words, it gets well without any particular treatment. Upon examination of these patients, usually nothing can be found except some tenderness in the upper part of the abdomen or lower part of the chest.

The patients, however, do have fever. Young persons are particularly susceptible to the disorder. The epidemics seem to occur especially in the summer or early fall.

The exact cause of Devil's Grip has not been definitely determined but it is believed that it is due to the virus.

The pain usually occurs along the line where the diaphragm (the large muscle between the chest and the abdomen) is attached to the chest wall. However, the pain may shift from one side of the chest to the other and may pass upward into the shoulder or the area between the shoulder blades. The pain is made worse by breathing, coughing, or movement of any sort. Sometimes, after the pain has disappeared, it recurs.

The temperature usually goes up when the pain appears or soon afterward, and may reach 104 degrees. It disappears gradually, in most cases within 12 hours, but in some instances it may persist for from 10 days to two weeks. In some cases, a chill may occur before the pain develops. Headache often adds to the patient's discomfort.

Of course, when the symptoms which occur in Devil's Grip develop, a thorough study is needed by a physician to make sure that some other disease is not present. An X-ray of the chest should be taken and the number of white cells in the blood determined.

In Devil's Grip the white cell count is normal or slightly increased at first but, later on, drops below normal.

The patient with Devil's Grip should, of course, be kept at rest in bed. The physician will prescribe such drugs as will relieve the pain and lessen the fever.

VICTIMS ARE SOUGHT OF CLUBHOUSE BLAST

LOS ANGELES, June 8 — A scattering explosion blew the roof off the Hillcrest Country club famous gathering-place for movie big-wigs during the breakfast hour today.

Police at the scene, beaten back by terrific heat, said they could not hazard a guess as to casualties in the blast. One ambulance driver said he picked up two bodies.

Other officers said they believed "several persons were killed or burned" by a gas explosion.

Despite the efforts of a dozen fire companies from Los Angeles, Culver City and West Los Angeles, the clubhouse, a frame structure built when the $150,000 clubhouse burned down two years ago—quickly was gutted.

A policeman at 20th Century-Fox studio across Pico boulevard from the club said the blast "almost blew the buttons off my uniform."

The main roof was lifted into the air and deposited many feet away in a stand of trees.

DIXIE ANTI-TRUMAN FORCES PLAN CAUCUS

By International News Service

JACKSON Miss June 9— The Dixie anti Truman forces picked up steam today as plans proceeded for a pre national convention caucus of delegates representing 11 southern states

The steering committee for the states rights movement meeting in Jackson Miss last night unanimously agreed on a meeting to formulate a written document stating the attitude of the southern states

Gov Ben Laney of Arkansas said the delegates will caucus in Philadelphia or Washington several days prior to the national Democratic convention next month

He declared the delegates would seek to have 'states rights planks' written into the party platform and that if the committee on credentials refused to seat the southerners because of their demands they would "withdraw to Birmingham July 7

The Arkansas chief executive emphasized that the Dixie states are not threatening to bolt the party and that the purpose of adjournment to Birmingham would be to suggest names to the other states for the Democratic presidential nomination

Laney stated that the southern delegates at their pre-convention caucus probably would state the south's attitude toward any prearranged nomination call for abolition of President Truman's civil rights program and ask for restoration of the two-thirds rule

The two-thirds rule would replace the simple majority method now in used for nominating the presidential and vice-presidential candidates

The President charged that congress, under Republican domination, had wrecked price control stymied the housing program virtually abolished the labor department tried to tear up the employment act of 1946 torn the budget apart and practiced "economy in the reverse

"One of our candidates for president has said the best way to control prices was no, to buy Mr Truman said He did not identify the candidate but added I guess he would let you starve I don't know I am not in that class"

The challenge to congress to stay on the job was put in these words

"If this congress goes away without passing an agricultural bill without passing a housing bill without doing something about prices then this congress has not done anything for the country

"They should stay there until they get those things done

To Visit Gov Wallgren

He will be the guest at Olympia tonight and tomorrow night of Gov Mon C Wallgren frequently talked of as a candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination

The President joked with photographers who crowded in to take his picture in night attire then he returned to his stateroom

The Butte High school band with its high stepping drum majorettes set the stage for the President's extemporaneous speech in the crowded high school stadium Police Chief Earl Riley said 9 000 persons were inside the auditorium hundreds outside

ROAD BUILDING SALARIES LOW

American Society Says Pay to Engineers in Ohio, Other States is Detriment.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O, June 9—The American Society of Civil Engineers reported today that low salaries paid engineers hampered road building in Ohio and other states

Frank M Williams chief engineer for the Ohio State Highway department confirmed the society's report that lack of highway engineers was "one of the most serious deterrents to the highway program"

"The shortage of engineers in the highway department is very serious Williams said It is the bottleneck in our road building program

We are losing engineers every day Williams added They get considerably more money with private industry

Scout Colleges

Williams advised that the highway department was sending representatives to engineering colleges in an attempt to hire some of the graduates this month to take up state employment The effort has not been very successful he added

"A graduate can start for at least $300 a month in private industry Williams explained "The top starting pay offered by the highway department is $283 a month

In attempting to drum up recruits among engineering college graduates the highway department stresses civil service security and the broad experience available for beginners Williams said most graduates were turning a deaf ear to these sales points

The salary schedules for civil service engineers are fixed by statute They can be increased only by the legislature

Makes Salary Study

The American Society of Civil Engineers made a study of salaries in 10 state highway departments It showed average salaries for engineers aides and licensed engineers ranged from $1 940 to $9 030 In Ohio the scale ranges from $1 700 to $5 800

The study showed the current federal scale ranges from $3 400 to $10 000 The society recommended for state highway departments a scale ranging from $2 700-$3 400 to $10,350-12 800 with such adjustments as may be required for local conditions

FARM AREAS ALL PLANTED

Job with Tractors Smoothly Done, Easing Outlook for Gasoline Supply.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 9 — Tractor farmers are breathing easier these days Spring planting is done, and with hardly any replanting such as was so severe a year ago because of late spring rains

Consequently, a threatened gasoline famine which might have resulted in heavy food loss this season is fading in farm areas This is in contrast to the severe shortage of motor fuels predicted for big cities and tourist regions this summer

Good weather was perhaps the biggest influence relieving the farm gas shortage but other factors also entered in

Many farmers followed oil industry advice to buy their gasoline and distillates as early as March and put them in farm storage tanks. Some in the cooperative movement are buying their own refineries and oil wells

Crude Oil Record Set

Oil producers, for their part, have expanded operations steadily Daily average crude oil production hit new alltime records in May

Even so, oil people are hard pressed to keep up with farm demand since tractor ownership and use are continuing their startling growth Just after World War I there were a little more than 300,000 tractors in the United States (1921) Just after World War II there were well over 3,000,000 in use (1947) or about twice as many as in 1939

International Harvester company, one of the big tractor makers, reports it is turning out around 206,000 tractors a year now a production increase of more than 70 per cent over the 1941 total.

All of which means there is more for the world to eat with less work on the part of farmers Not only is there a gain in production, but the grain which formerly was poured into horses and mules now goes into mills and meat animals for human food.

The Department of Agriculture estimates the productivity per farm worker last year was 47 per cent above pre-war Total agricultural production for sale and home consumption was 35 per cent above the 1935-39 average

But there were 10 per cent fewer farm workers and little increase in cropland and pasture so the department concludes most of the improvement is attributable to the heavy increase in tractors and mechanized farm implements And this is what would underline any scarcity of farm fuel; this is why farm advisers say putting an end to fuel waste is so important

Six Marion County Youths To Attend 12th "Boys' State"

Six Marion county youths will join the more than 850 high school juniors from throughout Ohio who will arrive at Ohio Wesleyan university campus on Delaware Saturday June 12 for the twelfth Buckeye Boys State, the American Legion's annual school of practical government.

Two Marion posts and one county Legion post are sending one boy each to the Boys State while LaRue's Philippi-Clement post No. 101 is sending three boys.

Byrd McGinnis Post No. 162 will be represented by Paul G. Menzer Jr. 17, son of Mr and Mrs. Paul G. Menzer of 534 South Vine street a junior at Harding High school.

G. I. Post No. 384 will be represented by Kevin Krugbaum son of Mr and Mrs. H. A. Krugbaum of 748 W. Vernon avenue a junior at St. Mary's high school.

Porter Snyder Post No. 605 of Waldo will send Hanson Porterfield, 16, a junior. He is the son of Mr and Mrs. Clyde Porterfield of Waldo.

Three From LaRue

Phillippe-Clement Post No. 101 of LaRue will send Marion Lightfoot, son of Mr and Mrs. Charles Lightfoot, John Liebold Jr., son of Mr and Mrs. John Liebold and Joe Pate Jr. son of Mr and Mrs. Joe Pate. All three boys are juniors in LaRue High school.

Selection of all boys attending "Boys' State" is based on a uniform selection system prescribed by American Legion headquarters in Columbus. The boys are selected on the basis of records of scholarship, leadership and character. Only high school juniors are eligible.

The "Boys' State" is a capsule course in state government in which the boys learn the practice of good government by doing good government.

To Arrive Saturday

All the boys will arrive Saturday at Ohio Wesleyan. Upon registering each will become a member of one of two mythical political parties and will be assigned to one of 17 cities and of three counties. Almost every boy will become a candidate for a mythical public office and by Sunday the campus will be plastered with home made political signs advertising the candidates to be voted in Monday's general elections. The twelfth governor of boys' state will be elected on Monday's elections and sworn in Monday night by a real supreme court justice, Justice Charles B. Zimmerman of the non-political Ohio supreme court. Governor Thomas J. Herbert will be speaker of the evening and other high state officials will attend the installation ceremonies.

W. L. DeWeese of state Legion headquarters said today this year boys state will be the largest on record by some 40 citizens. Boys State runs from June 12 through June 22. Each day of boys state is reckoned as the equivalent of three months in regular state, city or county government.

GROTTO TO SPONSOR MILLS BROS. CIRCUS

Show To Be at Fairgrounds Here Next Tuesday.

The first step toward making it possible for all underprivileged children of the city to attend Mills Bros. three ring circus when it exhibits at the Fairgrounds here next Tuesday has been taken by Kadgar Grotto which is sponsoring the circus, managers and horse show for the purpose of raising money for its humanitarian fund.

W. C. Morehouse, monarch of the Grotto, said that other organizations and business firms have been participating in the project and it is hoped that enough of the underprivileged children's tickets will be made available in this manner so that all boys and girls in Marion who might not otherwise have the opportunity to see the circus will be able to do so.

Two performances of Mills Bros. circus will be given at the Fairgrounds at 2 and 8 p. m. Doors will open at 1 and 7 for inspection of the menagerie and horse show combined.

Return of the Mills Bros. show to this area is in the nature of a homecoming the show having wintered in nearby Bucyrus two winters ago.

Mills Bros. is the only organized circus carrying its own minister—85-year-old Dr. Waddell the celebrated circus chaplain—and one of the few circuses, if not the only one that never plays on a Sunday.

Mills Bros.' 1948 program is highlighted by a number of European acts making their first American tours. They include the Cathalas from Denmark, Renato Medinas from Corsica, and Bruna and Yolando from Italy. Another top feature of this year's program is the head carry, performed by Big Burma, giant elephant, and Miss Virginia Noel the only girl in the world permitting herself to be carried the length of the hippodrome track in the jaws of an elephant.

Clifford Welch is Grotto circus ticket chairman. Walter Guthrie, Edwin Smith and John Lavini are other committeemen.

350 New Books Added To City Library Shelves

Three hundred fifty new books were added to the Carnegie Public Library in April making a total of 42,528 volumes available according to a recently released library report. All of these new books were purchased by the board with 163 of the books for adults and 187 for juveniles.

Circulation for the main library totaled 7,876, and for the county branches 2,243 and juvenile circulation in the city schools came to a total of 987. Circulation in the various county branches was divided as follows: LaRue 1,043, Prospect 816, Caledonia 384.

With 224 borrowers added during the month at the main library and 23 in the county branches the grand total for registered borrowers for both at the end of the month was 7,975. At LaRue 11 borrowers were added, eight at Prospect and four at Caledonia.

The level of the Gulf of Mexico is actually about 8 inches higher than that of the outer Atlantic.

Poems were given by Miss Ruth Zachman and Miss Maxine Good and it was voted to send an offering for a CARE package. Miss Doris Brading was in charge of the program which was on the theme, "Answering the Call." Miss Mary K. Hollinger conducted the devotions. Mrs. Smith closed her talk with a poem. The benediction was by Miss Coral Jobe. The hostess was assisted by Misses Ruth and Mary Jane Zachman. Love's Perilous Path

By ADELA GARRISON

"I suppose," Noel said humbly, "that I ought to leave right away."

Mary patted his hand with a tender gesture, while she gave him one of her "big brother" smiles.

"He's suffering from conviction of sin," she told the rest of us brightly. "When he realized what he'd blurted out before Faith, he just came right down to the mourners' bench and stayed right there until I picked him up and brought him back here. But that's no reason why you shouldn't finish your breakfast," she said, turning back to him.

"I don't think I belong among sensible people," he said, and Mary's hand shot upward and boxed his ears expertly, but tenderly.

"You shut your big mouth!" she said, "and I'll tell you humbly that I'm sorry I opened mine. Honestly I didn't mean to poke fun at you."

"You didn't," he said "but—"

"Save the rest of it," she said crisply, "until you've had that extra cup of coffee with me. I am Aunt Madge pouring out now. Then, I myself will speed you on your way. Aunt Madge won't want any auditors for her interviewing with Olivia. Uncle Dicky and Faith and Granddad already have their parking places staked out; you'll be gone down town and I'm going to ask Aunt Katharine very prettily if she'll invite me over to her suite for a little visit while Olivia is here. Auntie Madge will give us a little ring when it's safe to come back. By then we'll be wild to know the latest installment of the soap opera. I'll relay it to you when you come home tonight."

"Don't tell me anything!" Noel said darkly but with sincerity in his voice. "Then I can't spill anything."

"If you can't think of anything better than that to say," his wife told him militantly, "I'll shut your big mouth for you with a brick. Didn't you ever hear the saying about the burned child? I'll bet nobody keeps still in seven languages better than you will whenever Faith is in the offing."

"You never said a truer word than that one," her husband said earnestly and Mary quirked her eyebrows quizzically at him.

"Then let's go on from there," she said. "Drink your coffee—it's getting cold—and I'll take you to the door and bid you a long and affectionate au revoir."

As always, she had been able to coax him back into good humor and in less than five minutes, she had gone with him to the door and sent him away radiant. But when she turned back to us, her spirits were distinctly drooping.

"Where" she said "what a mar thing" and I knew that she was referring to Noel's threatened dismal mood as well as to his blunder in "speaking out of turn" before Faith.

"Now don't you git low in yoh spirits," Katharine admonished her severely. "Get into the bedroom pick up whatever who-dunit, or cross word puzzle or solitaire cards you want to enliven your imprisonment in my ward. I've got my own stacked up over there. Then let's be on our way. Your aunt will want to have Room Service and the maid in here before she sends for Olivia."

I was at the telephone by the time she was at the door calling Room Service, and the linen room.

The waiters and the maid arrived at the same time, and in another five minutes the living room was in perfect order.

"Hurry through the other rooms," I told the maid. "I am expecting a caller."

My father busied himself with a newspaper until the maid had finished.

"Is it all right for me to call Philip now?" he asked.

OPEN LETTER
from
COMPANY "C" 166th INFANTRY
UNITED STATES NATIONAL GUARD
ARMORY, MARION, OHIO
to
DRAFT AGE MEN

This letter is addressed to you, but is intended for your parents as well. As you know, Congress is about to pass a Draft act. If it does so, all young men between the ages of (19) and (25) years will be drafted for TWO years, unless exempt by having served in the Armed forces or by enlisting in the National Guard PRIOR to the enactment of the draft law. If you are between the above mentioned ages or will be in that age group in a year or so, you certainly are eligible to be called.

If you are planning on going to College or starting a trade, these plans may be interrupted, unless you take advantage of the opportunity to enlist in the National Guard

We believe in National Security and sincerely believe that a strong Citizen-Soldiery will assist in that security Your enlistment and service in the National Guard, where you are among friends and neighbors, will prepare you for any emergency as well as permitting you to remain at home and continuing on with your plans for the future

Come down to the Armory, bring along your Dad so that you both may see the unit in action and talk to the Company Commander The unit drills on TUESDAY evenings

It is up to you . . . Don't be caught short . . . June 19th may be the deadline for exemption from Draft.

Pacific Western Oil began the day with a gain of ⅝ and extended it to more than a point

Issues reaching new highs for the year or more included Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, American Telephone, and Union Carbide.

Also higher were Chrysler, Western Union, International Nickel, General Electric, Du Pont, Radio Corp, International Paper, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and Mission Corp

Alivojvodic Turns Back Giants on 4 Hits in Winning 8th Game, 6-2

Mound Opponent, Len Klaus, Gets First Hit in Sixth Inning

By BILL BRENT

A guy who couldn't last out an evening with the Marion Cubs last year, Nick Alivojvodic, last night chalked up his eighth win and best effort of the season when he turned back the league-leading Springfield Giants on four hits in winning, 6 to 2.

Nick pitched hitless ball until the sixth inning when his opponent on the mound, Leonard Klaus, lifted a high fly into right field that Lee Bohlander misjudged, the blow going for a double. Klaus, the Giants' mound ace who had won his last five efforts, scored on two successive wild pitches.

2 in Eighth

The other three hits came in the eighth with the fourth Chicago fast-baller working under a sheet of rain, and one of those blows was a blooper that dropped safely between three players.

Again it was Klaus who struck the telling blow. With George Poydenice on second off a single and passed ball, Klaus sent a hard drive straight down the first base line, plating Poydenice.

Nick struck out eight batters, his perfected change-up as effective as his fast ball. He walked but two and hit one.

The Springfield loss shoved them back into a first place tie with Muncie, whose game at Newark was rained out, as were all the other games in the Ohio-Indiana league.

Springfield and Marion will meet on the Lincoln park diamond again tonight.

While Alivojvodic was throttling the Giants, the Cubs collected nine hits off Klaus, who had beaten them in two previous meetings.

Bolduc Gets Three

Left fielder Bill Bolduc, who is fast moving into the Marion batting leadership, opened the second inning with the first of his three singles, moved to second on an infield out, and came home on shortstop Pete Schnepf's single.

Alivojvodic opened the sixth with a safety, and raced all the way home on a Springfield error that allowed Lee Bohlander to reach third. Bohlander scored on Pete Neukirch's fly out to centerfield.

With two away in the seventh, Don Schmitt singled and scored on Alivojvodic's triple to right field. Bohlander walked, started to steal second, and Alivojvodic stole home while Bohlander was evading a run down.

Bob Shuford's double in the eighth plated Bolduc with the sixth run.

Alivojvodic now holds an 8-5 record and Klaus 7-5.

CUB PITCHER Bill Burgermeister, who was hit in the knee by a batted ball Tuesday night, will probably be out of the line-up several days with the injury.

Manager Robson is also suffering from knee trouble, an old ailment that has plagued him for several years. After catching for several days in a row his knee swells up and has to be taped, and then he can hardly bend it.

* * *

A HOST OF NEW Players joined Ohio-Indiana league clubs over the weekend.

Here at Marion, Wilbur Boerger joined the Cubs mound staff, and another hurler is due here this week.

Newark got a new infield—Eddie Heck at first, John Kopsic at second, and Allan Washburn at third.

Seven men were sent to the lowly Richmond Braves in a failing effort to get them out of their slump. Even though shortstops Sprague and Shanner, first baseman Stevenson, and outfielders Richards, Beers, Ruggiero, and Chamberlain save the Braves practically a new line-up they lost five straight to the up and coming Newark Yankees over the weekend.

Dick Lauffer, a recent graduate of Duke university, joined the Lima Terriers as their second-sacker.

BLACKWELL TO GO AGAINST PHILLIES

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 9—The Reds come up tonight with their stopper—one Ewell Blackwell, who is the best bet to put the club back on victory road.

With the Redlegs deep in seventh place after two successive losses to the Brooklyn Dodgers, Blackie was Manager Neun's choice to go against the fighting Phillies from Philadelphia. The "Whip" has a 2-3 record and is making his second start after a layoff because of an ailing arm.

A bit of classy relief hurling by Willard Ramsdell, late of Mobile, turned the trick for the Dodgers yesterday as they downed the Reds, 6-5.

Ramsdell, a nickleball artist, took over in the third inning after the Rhinelanders had knocked out starter Ralph Branca with a five-run blast. He allowed just two hits the rest of the way.

Brooklyn landed on starter Ken Raffensberger for four runs in the inning on four singles, a walk and a double. The Dodgers' winning runs were off Tom Hughes in the second. Eddie Mikula walked, stole second, and went to third on a wild pitch before Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges collected singles.

A three-run homer by Augie Galan was the big blow in the Reds' third inning outburst.

Bobsean Returns To Marion Cubs

Infielder Gene Bobsenn was sent to Marion today from the Hutchinson, Kansas, Cubs of the Western league.

Bobsean played shortstop for the Cubs last year, but he'll probably play second base this season.

Tony Mislovich was released to make room for him, and pitcher Wilbur Boerger, who appeared briefly in two games since joining the Cubs last Friday, also was released to make room for another pitcher who is expected this week.

SEEKS TO REPEAT

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, June 9—National Senior champion Allen Rankin will be seeking his fourth straight Ohio Senior title when the 50-year-or-olders begin their two-day, 36-hole tourney at Columbus tomorrow.

Yankees Move Into 2nd Place Tie with 3-2 Win Over Sox

The New York Yankees moved into a second-place tie with the Philadelphia Athletics, coming from behind to edge out the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in a 12-inning night battle at Yankee stadium. The Detroit Tigers nipped the A's 2-1 in another close one at Philadelphia.

Bobby Brown drove in the winning run for the Yankees with a two-out single in the twelfth.

Hal Newhouser continued to climb back by holding the Athletics to seven hits. It was his fifth straight victory after four consecutive defeats.

The Senators came from behind three times to tie the score then tallied twice in the seventh to nip the St. Louis Browns 6-5 in a night game in Washington Carden Gillenwater and Mark Christman, with two hits each, led the Nats' 12-hit attack against loser Bryan Stephens and Clem Dreisewerd.

The St. Louis Cardinals advanced to within four percentage points of the National league-leading New York Giants by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 in a night game in St. Louis. Harry (The Cat) Brecheen gained his sixth victory against one defeat, but Ted Wilks saved the game for him with some brilliant relief pitching.

Scoring six runs in the first two innings, the Brooklyn Dodgers staved off a couple of desperate Cincinnati rallies to nip the Reds 6-5 in Cincinnati. Willard Ramsdell, relieving starter Ralph Branca in the third, allowed only two hits in six and one-third innings.

Young Vernon Bickford gave up only four hits in pitching the Boston Braves to an 11-1 victory over Johnny Schmitz and the Cubs in Chicago. It was the Cubs' seventh straight loss. Phil Masi and Tommy Holmes each collected three hits.

The scheduled night game between the Giants and Pirates in Pittsburgh was postponed by rain.

Sports Charter On This and That

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., June 9—Mulcahy, all-tournament player from Luna St. Rose in the recent state championship high school basketball tourney is quite a baseball player too!

Thursday night, as Minister plays at Port Laramie in a semi-pro game, major league scouts from Cincinnati, Boston Braves, both Chicago clubs, Philadelphia Phillies and the Detroit Tigers will watch the classy shortstop in action for Minister.

Johnny's activity with the semi-pro club during the playing season proved embarrassing to his school. All city league games were forfeited by St. Rose as Johnny was ruled ineligible and denied his baseball letter. At Sunday's exercises the youth athlete, who has better than a .500 batting average for the year was graduated, minus cap and gown, at the end of the line although he was a grade "A" student.

AMATEURS desiring to play in the $11,500 Columbus Open golf tourney July 8-11 at the Wyandotte club must file their entry (with the $5 fee) by June 13, and then qualify in an 18-hole round at Wyandotte June 16, the club announced today.

The 10 low scorers will qualify, and five alternates named, in the June 16 round. Any Ohio amateur is eligible.

Company C Wins 4th Game, Defeating W and W, 4 to 3

Company C marked its fourth straight win in Commercial league competition last night in downing W & W, 4-3. In two other games in the league, Eagles shaded Farm Bureau, 11-10, and Shanty Town thumped Post 162, 9-2, behind no-hit pitching by Taylor.

Atkinson was instrumental in keeping the Company C team in first place in league standing as he cracked out a homer with two aboard in the third. Joe Paulus, on base on an error, scored on a triple by Miley in the top of the seventh for the winning run. W & W scored two in the fifth and one in the last of the seventh.

Heavy hitting featured the Eagles-Farm Bureau contest as Eagles knocked 14 safe blows and F.B. 13. Farm Bureau scored twice in the last of the seventh on a pair of hits, a walk and an error to draw within one run of a tie. Eagles scored five in the fifth and one in the sixth in their best innings.

Shanty Town had an easy time with Post 162 as pitcher Taylor completely shackled the Post in hurling his no-hitter. Wilcox permitted eight. Grubbs and Moore each counted four baggers for the winners.

HOWERTON HAS BIG NIGHT FOR RED BIRDS

By The Associated Press

Minor-league veteran Bill Howerton, Columbus outfielder, had one of the biggest games of his career Tuesday night.

The 36-year-old portside batter, who was traded by Louisville to the Red Birds in 1946 and hit a weak .246 last season, banged out five consecutive blows to pace Columbus over Minneapolis 13-3. Howerton mixed in a homer and double in his collection to drive in six runs. He tallied three times himself.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix twirled a seven-hitter and marked up 11 strikeouts for the win which left Columbus 5½ games away from Indianapolis, American Association leaders.

Second place Milwaukee trimmed the Indians' edge to 4½ games, downing them 4-3.

St. Paul trounced last-place Louisville 13-6 with an 11-hit assault led by Earl Naylor's and Roy Campanella's homers and a pair of triples by Johnny Douglas.

At Kansas City, the Blues squeezed out a 5-4 win over Toledo on Leon Culberson's long fly which scored Ralph Houk in the seventh. The Blues scored three runs in the seventh to back Mal Mallette to victory. The lefty handcuffed Toledo with seven hits.

BEARDEN, BOUDREAU DEFEAT BOSOX, 2-0

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, June 9—Gene Bearden, rookie southpaw star and Manager Lou Boudreau, personal shortstop sensation, shared equal billing today in the Cleveland Indians' sparkling first-place act.

Bearden, who escaped from a torpedoed ship during the war, performed the escape act several times last night for his second shut out of the Boston Red Sox, while Boudreau's sixth homer provided the runs for the 2-0 victory.

Bearden's sixth win in seven starts hiked the Indians' league lead to three and one-half games over the second-place Philadelphia Athletics and New York Yankees—the biggest bulge enjoyed this year by the rampant Redskins.

The game was broken up in the fourth inning when Allie Clark walked and trotted around on Boudreau's circuit clout despite the jeers of Boston bleacherites who protested the blow was outside the right field foul line. Umpire Charley Berry, watching the neon-lighted foul pole, ruled the homer was legitimate.

Bearden permitted only five hits, but was forced to pitch his way out of several jams resulting from six walks. A spectacular fielding play by Boudreau on Vern Stephens' hard smash throttled one Red Sox threat, while Bearden retired the side with the bases loaded in the seventh.

Gene has permitted only 10 runs in 59 innings of pitching this season for the top percentage and earned-run average on the Tribe staff.

U. S. Open Gets Under Way On Los Angeles Course Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, June 9—The greatest golfing show on earth, the U. S. Open, gets under way tomorrow on the long, tough Riviera course calculated to stamp the 1948 winner a worthy champion.

It is the most coveted title for all the links domain, bringing together America's finest professionals and amateurs. The field that starts the grueling 72-hole test ending Saturday will be one of the best.

One nice foreign entry, Arthur D'Arcy (Bobby) Locke, from far off Johannesburg, will battle par and this country's finest for top honors.

Lew Worsham is on hand to defend the title.

The general and apparently logical favorite as the 171 survivors of sectional trials tested the 6920-yard course in final practice today was little Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa.

Hogan bagged the Los Angeles open last January with a 276, nine under par. The course plays to a 35-36—71. Its yardage is the longest on which any previous U. S. Open has been played and newly grown, long rough has added to its hazards.

Eight former National Open champs will lend color, experience and splendid golf to the tournament. The grand, little "old man in knickers" Gene Sarazen, heads the division of ex-title winners. He was the head man in 1922, before many of the present competitors were born. Tommy Armour, the Silver Scot now playing out of Boca Raton, Fla., was open champ in 1927. He's on hand for another whirl. So are Olin Dutra, winner in 1934, Tony Manero of Stamford, Conn., 1936 leader, solemn-faced Ralph Guldahl, who flashed through the golfing skies in 1937-38, a double winner; Lawson Little, the one-time amateur wonder, Craig Wood and Lloyd Mangrum.

The former champions, of course, form only a segment of the parade of top flighters after the prized crown.

Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, Clayton Haefner, Dick Metz, Claude Harmon, Toney Penna, Skip Alexander, Chick Harbert, Jim Ferrier, John Palmer, Horton Smith, Herman Barron, Ellsworth Vines, Ed Furgol, E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, George Schoux, Herman Keiser and Vic Ghezzi, are among the nationally known par-breakers who could crash the winner's circle.

TONY ZALE MEETS GRAZIANO TONIGHT

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, N. J., June 9—The noisy extrovert, Rocky Graziano meets stolid Tony Zale in Ruppert stadium tonight in the rubber match of their violent ring series.

At stake this third time is Rocky's world middleweight championship, won from Zale July 16, 1947 in Chicago in the first fight, Sept. 27, 1946 in New York's Yankee stadium, Zale was victor by a knockout.

Both previous battles were bloody, boisterous affairs ending in the sixth round. Odds are 8-1 this one also will not go the full 15 rounds scheduled. The fight starts at 9 p. m. EST.

Betting odds that last week favored Graziano 5 to 12 narrowed on the eve of the clash to 1 to 2. Zale is 34 years old and Graziano 26 and this age differential is counted Zale's only handicap. As punchers go there's little to choose between the two.

The death rate among white girls 10 to 14 years old in the United States in 1947 fell to the spectacularly low rate of 0.4 per 1,000.
